The Election.

The country is safe and another election has passed into oblivion and after the smoke of battle clears away, there will be nothing in sight except the office-holders—the beneficiaries of our suffrages.

The great fight of Hearst against corporations failed in New York. Hearst may have been a bad man, but his public service record is good.

Judge Saunders in the 5th Congressional district wins by a safe majority. Flood of the 10th district swam Gregory. Up in the 9th district Slemp retains his seat in Congress and power at the Federal pie-counter. Bruce made a hard fight to oust him and succeeded in reducing his majority.

Not more than half the vote was polled in the State.

Little interest was manifested in the results.

The South remains solid and the North remains solid and the patronage is dispensed among the faithful and the people are apparently well satisfied to pay the bills.

Governor Swanson has named his successor and Judge Mann has his sponsors and Mr. Stuart his, and Mr. Tucker and Gen'l. Ayres and Mr. Glass, and there is no reason why Ex-Governor Tyler should not run again. The fact is the "woods is full" of excellent timber and Virginia is going to have another good Governor. She is entitled to the best and our hope is that she will get it—the very best. We have no axe to grind but are going to say things as the canvass progresses, and then support the nominee.

Three of the most prominent Democrats in all the land, Bryan, Tillman and Hearst are in disfavor with the Richmond Times-Dispatch and News-Leader, and they flatter themselves that they are the leading Democratic papers of the state. It is barely possible that nine-tenths of the Democrats are wrong and that wisdom will die with these two papers. Better-than-thou is most offensive spirit.

Mr. Roosevelt has spent a few days recently at Mrs. Roosevelt's country home in the county of Albemarle. The more he sees and knows of the people of the South, his fellow citizens of the "land of Dixie," the more willing in trust he will be to do justice to them, and this he will not do so long as he closes the door to his cabinet in their faces.

When Sec'y. Root declared that the people of California cannot maintain separate schools without violating the Constitution of the nation, he ignorantly or wilfully misrepresented the law. A man should serve his Master and still be true to himself.

It seems to be in keeping with the political fitness of things that Mr. Cortelyou the great campaign collector should be transferred from the post office folio to that of the treasury. "No pent-up Utica longer confines his powers." He has "the earth "now.

"I told you so." No we made no anti election predictions and are not surprised at anything that has happened. The man who did his duty at the polls should possess his soul in patience.'

Bailey, of Texas, throwing mud at Hearst, of New York, is unbecoming at this juncture, to say the least of it.

It would be fine if Secretary Wilson in providing for the enforcement of the pure-food law, should require the American hen to date her eggs.

MARRIED.

Miss Lucile Wade Hancock and Mr. John D. Elliot were united in marriage at the Presbyterian parsonage at Pamplin last Tue day, by Rev. J. A. Paisley. Miss Annie Maude Elliott was maid of honor and Mr. Aubrey Bass was best man. Miss Lillian Payne beautifully rendered the wedding march. The young couple left on the westbound train for Hinton, W. Va., after a short stop over at Covington, Va. The bride and groom are from the Rough Creek neighborhood and are very popular.—News.

A marriage of unusual interest was celebrated at "Merry Oaks," the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Thompson, Saturday of Charlotte, when Miss Elizabeth Houston, daughter of Major P. B. Houston, division engineer of the Tidewater Railroad, became the bride of Dr. Herbert O. Forbes, a prominent young physician of Jetersville.

Sweet and lovable in character, attractive in manner, she has won a host of friends in Keysville, who wish her all the sunshine and happiness that marriage bestows. This typical Southern girl is descended from a long line of distinguished ancestors. She will prove a worthy helpmeet to the one she has chosen as a life partner.

The bride wore a handsome dark brown tailor-made suit, and carried a lovely bouget of bride's roses and ferns.

The marriage ceremony was impressively performed by the Rev. G. Wallace Ribble, rector of the parish. On account of a recent bereavement, only the immediate members of the family were present.

The bridal party left on the 9:30 morning train for an extended Southern tour.

Dr. Forbes is a son of the late Peter A. Forbes, of Buckingham County.

WHY A FARMER SHOULD KEEP A BANK ACCOUNT.

Farmers as a rule do not keep books of accounts. Their accounts therefore, on the ledger of a bank will afford them a complete record of all their important transactions, involving the payment or receipt of money. A cancelled check, when returned by the bank, at the end of the month, constitutes the safest receipt one can have for showing the payment of money. Paying a laborer, a store account, or any other bills, with a check drawn on a bank, is safer than using money; because the person receiving the check must endorse it and the check should be preserved as a receipt.

A large number of the most reliable farmers, in this section, have accounts with us. We are very desirous of having the accounts of farmers on our books and we will be glad to furnish, at any time whatever information we can in regard to the subject of banking.

The persons who open accounts with us we furnish check books free of cost.

Impoverished Soil

Impoverished soil, like impoverished blood, needs a proper fertilizer. A chemist by analyzing the soil can tell you what fertilizer to use for different products.

If your blood is impoverished your doctor will tell you what you need to fertilize it and give you the rich, red corpuscles that are lacking in it. It may be you need a tonic, but more likely you need a concentrated fat food. Fat is the element lacking in your system.

There is no fat food that is so easily digested and assimilated as

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil

It will nourish and strengthen the body when milk and cream fail to do it. Scott's Emulsion is always the same; always palatable and always beneficial where the body is wasting from any cause, either in children or adults.

We will send you a sample free.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gills, of Appomattox, are visiting the family of Dr. D. W. Gills. Mr. Gills is the oldest brother of Dr. Gills, and is still active at the age of 84—Crewe correspondence of Times Dispatch.

DR. JULIAN H. ABBITT.

Dies Suddenly at His Home Here Thursday.

Dr. Julian Hamner Abbitt passed away at his residence here early Thursday morning, suddenly. He had been attending to his professional duties all day, and was chatting pleasantly with his family until bed-time Wednesday night. About midnight he complained of feeling badly and his wife and nephew attended him, and thought his condition satisfactory; about 2 a. m. Thursday he was seized with a violent attack of indigestion and heart trouble and passed peacefully away in a short while.

Thursday morning the news of his death soon entered the homes of our people and without an exception the sorrow and gloom were perceptible everywhere. Business was suspended and sorrowing friends mingled their tears with the afflicted family around the lifeless body of their physician and friend.

The deceased was in the 58th year of his age—in the prime of his life and was a splendid specimen of vigorous manhood. He was a skilled physician, a friend to the poor, and a comfort to the afflicted and suffering. His practice was heavy, yet his love and devotion for his profession caused him to endure many hardships and to work too hard—truly 'he died with his boots on.' The rich and well-to-do will miss him, the afflicted poor sustains an irreparable loss, and the county an upright, christian gentleman.

The deceased leaves to mourn his sudden death, besides his widow, who was Miss Sallie M. Ballou, of Halifax, and four small children: Frances, Edward, Julian and William Henry; his aged father, Dr. W. H. Abbitt, and brothers. A. W. Abbitt, of Lynchburg, Rev. Geo. C. Abbitt, of Kentucky, John D. Abbitt, of Franklin, Va., E. R. Abbitt and Dr. J. B. Abbitt of Appomattox, and sisters—Mrs. G. A. Coleman and Miss Annie Abbitt of Appomattox.

His body was prepared for burial and the funeral services were announced for Saturday in order to give relatives and friends from a distance an opportunity to attend. On Saturday evening the funeral took place from Liberty church, where he had been a consistent member for years and was conducted by his pastor, Rev. Geo. Kendard, assisted by Revs. Hugh C. Smith, his former pastor, of Emporia, Va. H. T. Allison and W. L. Murphy. The interment was made at Liberty cemetery. A select choir from Lynchburg, assisted by local talent sang sweetly and tenderly "The Christian's Good Night" and "Abide with Me." The remarks of the pastors bearing upon the life of the deceased were tender and consoling to the bereaved audience.

The family selected the following pall-bearers and flower bearers:

PALL-BEARERS:

C. W. Hancock, J. R. Horsley, H. D. Flood, J. H. Stanley, E. E. Gills, L. F. Burke, J. C. Shearer, W. J. Trent, T. A. Smith—Masons of the Appomattox Lodge.

FLOWER-BEARERS.

Drs. J. L. Kent, H. W. Daw, W. B. Thornhill, A. L. Wilson, Mr. Jno Turner, of Lynchburg, E. W. Taylor, A. H. Clement, W. M. Hancock, Rob't. Harvey, Richard Burke, L. E. Smith, C. S. McDearmon, E. H. Cawthorn, J. R. Hamilton, W. C. Farrar, Benj. Caldwell, Sam'l Ferguson, Leslie Ferguson, George Purdum, R. S. Jenkins, W. P. Gills, and Robt. Irby.

HONORARY PALL BEARERS:

Maj. J. W. Flood, Geo. T. Peers, T. A. Caldwell, J. T. Cawthorn, J. L. Chernault and N. H. Gregory.

The vast audience wept like children, and all seemed to realize the loss of a dear friend, a noble and sweet-spirited man.

The deceased was a prominent Mason and the Hill City Lodge of Masons had charge of the funeral and conducted it at the grave assisted by the local Masons and ministers.

The procession to the cemetery was the longest and the crowd largest ever seen at a funeral here. Julian Abbitt had friends wherever known. The floral offerings were beautiful and literally covered the newly made grave.

The largest audience of colored people ever seen at a funeral were sympathizing attendants. Immediately following the hearse was the Doctor's favorite driving horse led by his driver, hitched to his vacant buggy as he used it the evening before his death, appropriately draped in mourning; as the horse passed the immense crowd would bow their tear-stained faces sorrowfully and sob with grief.

His memory will be cherished in our hearts and his work and life will ever remain a rich and imperishable heritage to his family. He lived right, he died professing his love and devotion for his faithful wife.
